

Dear FCC:

I ask you to reject NAB petition 04-160. I listen only to satellite radio because I have sensitive hearing and cannot bear the static of any other type of radio - plus, my stereo receives only 1 station in our Cambridge, MA apartment.

I enjoy the variety and quality, particularly in world music, provided only by satellite radio. I pay for these services, including traffic and weather, and the National Association of Broadcasters has no right to remove services from my subscription. In any case, they will receive no benefits. If NAB were to dictate programming and this service were stolen from my XM subscription, would I use regular radio to check the weather? Never. Why do so when I have weather updates on my digital cable and weather.com on my computer, which provide instant and detailed information?

Sincerely,
Emily Sadigh
